The Biography

The Travelling Hands are an international roaming acoustic band from London. Entertaining at prestigious events, celebrations & private soirées across the globe since 2011, they bring immersive & charismatic renditions of classic tracks & modern hits directly to guests as they move with their instruments throughout the venue spaces that they perform within.

Whether singing 'Eye of The Tiger' personally to Tyson Fury in Claridge's, warming up crowds for Lionel Richie, or entertaining clients including Cartier, Rolex, Facebook, Google, Adobe, Royal Ascot, Formula 1, Rolls-Royce, Jaguar Land Rover, British Airways, Cancer Research, Sony, Virgin, Hublot or Barclays, this quintessentially British band have become the roaming band of choice for a growing number of events professionals & private clients worldwide.

The 5-6 piece musical group have performed at many stunning & prestigious venues from Kensington Palace to the beaches of Bali.

What's more, The Travelling Hands are dressed to impress, sponsored by the award-winning designer Marc Darcy, who supply their brilliant & classically British suits.
